SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS FOR STUDENTS ENROLLED AT ANY ACCREDITED U.S. INSTITUTION OF HIGHER EDUCATION

American Association of University Women (AAUW) American Fellowships

- The AAUW offers American Fellowships through which the organization awards fellowships for women in their final year of writing their doctoral dissertation or women seeking postdoctoral research leave from accredited institutions. The fellowship is designed to offset living expenses during this period to allow for full-time work on the dissertation or research.
  - http://www.aauw.org/learn/fellowships_grants/american.cfm

Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship

- The Congressionally funded Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship program provides funding for undergraduate study abroad for students with limited financial means. Approximately 820 Gilman Scholarships are awarded annually. Students may use the awards to defray the costs of their study-abroad experience and may choose any study-abroad program worldwide that offers academic credit that their home institution will accept.
  - http://www.iie.org/en/Programs/Gilman-ScholarshipProgram

Boren Undergraduate Scholarships: National Security Education Program (NSEP)

- One of the primary programs offered by the NSEP is the Boren Scholarship for international study, which is given on both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The undergraduate awards are available to students seeking to study abroad in regions critical to U.S interests. The Boren Web site lists the eligible countries and languages for student study.
  - http://www.borenawards.org/

Boren Graduate Fellowships: National Security Education Program (NSEP)

- One of the primary programs offered by the NSEP is the Boren Scholarship for international study, which is given on both the undergraduate and graduate levels. The graduate awards are available to students seeking to study abroad in regions critical to U.S interests. The Boren Web site lists the eligible countries and languages that are considered critical to the United States.
  - http://www.borenawards.org/

The Carnegie Endowment for International Peace Junior Fellows Program

- The Carnegie Endowment for International peace awards eight to ten Junior Fellowships each year to talented undergraduates and students who have recently graduated with a bachelor’s degree. Junior Fellows are selected for approximately 400 participating universities in the United States. Fellows work as research assistants for senior associates.
  - http://www.carnegieendowment.org/about/index.cfm?fa=jrfellows

Clarendon Fund Scholarship for Study at Oxford University

- According to the Clarendon Fund Scholarship Web site, “Scholarships are awarded to academically excellent students with the best proven and future potential. Clarendon Scholarships are highly competitive, with less than 10 percent of applicants selected for the scholarship. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of prior academic record, potential success in the chosen discipline, and student motivation.
  - http://www.clarendon.ox.ac.uk/
DAAD: German Academic Exchange Service Undergraduate Scholarship

- DAAD offers a variety of programs and funding aimed at supporting undergraduate and graduate students to engage German culture, society, and education. This program is designed specifically for undergraduates and includes opportunities for internships, language training, and higher education course work (including study abroad programs). Knowledge of the German language is not necessary to apply.
  - http://www.daad.org/

DAAD: German Academic Exchange Service Graduate Study Scholarship

- DAAD offers a variety of programs aimed at supporting undergraduate and graduate students to engage German culture, society, and education. The programs designed specifically for graduate students include opportunities for internships, language training, and higher education course work. One of the primary programs offered is the graduate scholarship for study in Germany.
  - http://www.daad.org/

The Department of Homeland Security Undergraduate Scholarships

- The Department of Homeland Security Scholarship Program was created as a way to attract top students into the Department of Homeland Security. Applicants must have academic backgrounds that match the homeland security-related areas of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (HS-STEM) designated by the Department of Homeland Security. These include biological threats and countermeasures, border security, food and agriculture security, and infrastructure protection.
  - http://www.orau.gov/dhsed/

Harvey Fellows Program (Mustard Seed Foundation)

- The Harvey Fellows Program supports Christian graduate students in elite graduate programs at premier U.S. universities. Specifically, the program is designed to provide funding for Christian students pursuing disciplines underrepresented by individuals espousing a Christian worldview.
  - http://msfdn.org/harveyfellows/

The Hertz Foundation Graduate Fellowships

- The enduring mission of the Foundation is “… to build America’s capacity for innovation by nurturing remarkable applied scientists and engineers who show the most promise to change the world.” Today, the Hertz Foundation annually awards between sixty and eighty fellowships for Ph.D. students in applied physical, biological, and engineering sciences.
  - http://www.hertzfoundation.org/

Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI) Research Training Fellowships for Medical Students

- The Howard Hughes Medical Institute offers approximately sixty-six fellowships annually to medical, dental, or veterinary school students. The fellowships are for one year and must be completed before a student graduates. Fellowships are designed to “… strengthen and expand the nation’s pool of medically trained researchers.”
Jack Kent Cooke Undergraduate Transfer Scholarship Program

- The Jack Kent Cooke Foundation provides scholarships to community college students as they transfer to some of our nation’s most elite four-year schools. The foundation awards approximately fifty transfer scholarships each year to academically talented students who demonstrate financial need.
  - http://www.jkcf.org/

Jacob K. Javits Fellowships Program

- The purpose of the Jacob K. Javits Fellowship program is to provide “… fellowships to students of superior academic ability—selected on the basis of demonstrated achievement, financial need, and exceptional promise—to undertake study at the doctoral and Master of Fine Arts level in selected fields of arts, humanities, and social sciences.” The program provides approximately sixty-five fellowships a year, renewable up to three additional years.

The James Madison Graduate Fellowships

- The James Madison Graduate Fellowship is designed to help secondary teachers become outstanding teachers of the U.S. Constitution. The Fellowship provides funding for study toward a master’s degree in American history, American government, or social studies. Applicants for Junior Fellows may apply if they are finishing or have finished their bachelor’s degrees and are planning on pursuing full-time graduate study.
  - http://www.jamesmadison.com

Killam Fellowships Program

- The Killam Fellowships program is an exchange program between the United States and Canada for undergraduate students. The Killam Fellowships Program allows for both direct exchange arrangements (registering at the home university, paying the home university fees, but attending the host university and paying host tuition fees).
  - http://www.killamfellowships.com/

Knowles Science Teaching Foundation (KSTF) Teaching Fellowship

- The Knowles Science Teaching Foundation Teaching Fellowship is a five-year fellowship designed to help grow outstanding math and science teachers. This fellowship is aimed at creating “educational leaders” and “change agents” to strengthen math and science education in U.S. high schools.
  - http://www.kstf.org/about/about.html

National Geographic Young Explorers Grants

- The Young Explorers Grants program funds creative proposals for research, conservation, and exploration-related projects. It supports a variety of projects—and an age range of applicants—that are generally not covered by other sources of funding. Past projects range from uncovering a mummified dinosaur to kayaking through Bolivia.

National Institutes of Health (NIH) – Oxford-Cambridge Scholars Program

- “The National Institutes of Health-Oxford-Cambridge Scholars Program is an accelerated, individualized doctoral training program for outstanding science students committed to biomedical research.” This elite program allows participants to gain significant experience in biomedical research at worldclass institutions.
National Science Foundation (NSF) Graduate Research Fellowship Program

- The National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship is designed to “… ensure the vitality of the human resource base of science and engineering in the United States and reinforces its diversity.” The Program attracts top students from across the nation who are studying in science, technology, engineering, and math disciplines. The fellowship provides generous support for research-based master’s and doctoral-level degrees.
  - http://www.nsfgrfp.org/

The Paul and Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans

- “The purpose of The Paul and Daisy Soros Fellowships for New Americans is to provide opportunities for continuing generations of able and accomplished New Americans to achieve leadership in their chosen fields. The Program is established in recognition of the contributions New Americans have made to American life and in gratitude for the opportunities the United States has afforded the donors and their family.”
  - http://www.pdsoros.org

The Roothbert Fund

- The Roothbert Fund Scholarships are need-based awards designed to support undergraduate and graduate students at accredited institutions in the United States. The Scholarships are open to all in the United States regardless of sex, age, color, nationality, or religious background.

Rotary Ambassadorsial Scholarships

- The following three types of Ambassadorsial Scholarships are available: 1) Academic-Year Ambassadorsial Scholarships, given for one year of study/research at a foreign institution of higher education 2) Multi-year ambassadorsial Scholarships, given for two years of study/research at a foreign institution of higher education 3) Cultural Ambassadorsial Scholarships, awarded for either three or six months of intensive language study and cultural immersion.
  - http://www.rotary.org

Saint Andrews’s Society of the Stare of New York Scholarship Program

- In recognition of the benefits of higher education, the Society provides significant funding for two Scottish graduate students to study in the United States and two Scottish-American students to study in Scotland. The program “has consistently attracted top students from the most competitive institutions of learning including Harvard University.”
  - http://standrewsny.org/standrews/content/scholarship-program

The Science, Mathematics and Research for Transformation (SMART) Scholarship for Service Program

- The SMART Scholarship for Service Program is available to both undergraduate and graduate students pursuing majors in science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM). The SMART Scholarship for Service Program is designed to help prepare a talented pool of civilian scientists and engineers to work at Department of Defense laboratories. SMART Scholarship recipients receive immediate post-graduation job placement within the Department of Defense.
  - http://smart.asee.org
ThinkSwiss Research Scholarships

- ThinkSwiss supports highly motivated and qualified U.S. undergraduate and graduate students to conduct research at a public Swiss University or research institute for two to three months. The Scholarship is open to students in all fields. By accepting this scholarship, a recipient agrees to participate in a blog to share experiences during his or her research stay in Switzerland. After returning to the United States, the recipient also agrees to carry out at least one activity as student “ambassador” to promote Swiss research.
  - http://www.thinkswiss.org/us-swiss-exchange/research-scholarship

William E. Simon Fellowship for Noble Purpose (Intercollegiate Studies Institute)

- The Simon Fellowship recognizes “graduating college seniors who are pursuing lives dedicated to and distinguished by honor, generosity, service, and respect.” It is a $40,000 unrestricted grant awarded to those graduating college seniors who have demonstrated passion, dedication, a high capacity for self-direction, and originality in pursuit of a goal that will strengthen civil society.

DISCIPLINE-SPECIFIC SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS FOR THE ARTS, HUMANITIES, AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

American-Scandinavian Foundation Awards for Americans

- There are two separate opportunities for U.S. students, professionals, and artists, including the Fellowship/Grants program and the Translation Prize. The ASF Fellowships and Grants program provides fellowships of up to $23,000 and grants of $5,000 to pursue study or research in one or more Scandinavian countries. Awards are made in all disciplines. The Translation Prize awards $2,000 for the best translation of poetry, literary prose, fiction, or drama by a Scandinavian author born before 1800.
  - http://www.amscan.org/grants_americans.html

Andrew W. Mellon Foundation Fellowship in Conservation at the Huntington Library

- The Andrew Mellon Foundation offers a fellowship in conservation at the Huntington Library each year. The fellowship is offered in the conservation of either books or works on paper. Applicants must have a bachelor’s degree and “demonstrate a commitment to working in conservation or a related field.”

Davis-Putter Scholarship Fund

- Davis-Putter Scholarships are need-based opportunities dedicated to those working at the university level and participating in progressive movements on their campuses and within their communities. The Davis-Putter Scholarship Fund contributes up to $10,000 toward education at any accredited institution of higher education in the United States.
  - http://www.davisputter.org/

Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship

- The Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship is designed to give applicants experience in Washington, DC, working with an organization focused on peace and security issues. Scoville Fellows are placed at one of twenty-five Washington organizations as junior staffers and provided with a monthly stipend for a six to nine-month period. Scoville Fellows receive a monthly stipend of $2,300, health insurance, and travel expenses to Washington, DC.
  - http://www.scoville.org/
Institute for International Public Policy Undergraduate Fellowship (PPIA)

- PPIA is a national program designed to prepare young adults for advanced degrees and eventually for careers serving the public good. The PPIA Junior Summer Institutes (JSI) are the hallmark of the PPIA Fellowship Program. For seven weeks during the summer between the junior and senior years, JSI Fellows focus on preparation for graduate programs in public and international affairs, careers as policy professionals, and other leadership opportunities in public service.
  o http://www.ppiaprogram.org/about/

Japanese Government (Monbukagakusho) Scholarship for Japanese Studies

- The Japanese government’s Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science, and Technology provides scholarships for study in Japan to foreign students interested in further study of the Japanese Language, Japanese affairs, and Japanese culture. Some 79,000 students from approximately 160 countries and world regions have studied in Japan through this program.
  o http://www.studyjapan.go.jp/en/toj/toj0302e.html

Leonore Annenberg Teaching Fellowship

- The Leonore Annenberg Teaching Fellowship includes a $30,000 stipend and guidance toward a teaching certificate. Fellows are prepared to teach in a high-need urban or rural secondary school and receive support and mentoring throughout their three-year teaching commitment. Upon completion, they receive lifelong membership in the national network of Woodrow Wilson Fellows.
  o http://www.woodrow.org/teaching-fellowships/annenberg/index.php

Rotary World Peace Fellowship

- The Rotary World Peace Fellowships are part of the Rotary Club Foundation’s Educational Program. Every year, up to 100 Peace Fellows are chosen from around the world to work on a master’s degree in international relations, public administration, sustainable development, peace studies, conflict resolution, or a related field or a professional development certificate in peace and conflict resolution.
  o http://www.rotary.org/en/StudentsAndYouth/EducationalPrograms/RotaryCentersForInternationalStudies/Pages/Default.aspx

The Thomas R. Pickering Undergraduate Foreign Affairs Fellowship

- The goal of the undergraduate foreign affairs fellowship is “... to recruit talented students in academic programs relevant to international affairs, political and economic analysis, administration, management, and science policy.” The program provides generous funding (up to $50,000 annually) to cover tuition, room and board, and other related educational expenses. The program also provides internship opportunities and mentoring.
  o http://www.woodrow.org/higher-education-fellowships/foreign_affairs/index.php

The Thomas R. Pickering Graduate Foreign Affairs Fellowship

- The Thomas R. Pickering Graduate Foreign Affairs Fellowship goal is “... to attract outstanding students who enroll in two-year master’s degree programs in public policy, international affairs, public administration, or academic fields such as business, economics, political science, sociology, or foreign languages, who represent all ethnic, racial, and social backgrounds and who have an interest in pursuing a Foreign Service career in the U.S. Department of State.” The program provides generous funding (up to $50,000 annually) to cover tuition, room and board, and other related educational expenses. The program also provides internship opportunities and mentoring.
  o http://www.woodrow.org/higher-education-fellowships/foreign_affairs/pickering_grad/index.php
U.S. Department of State Critical Language Scholarship

- The Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the U.S. Department of State offers intensive summer language institutes overseas through the Critical Language Scholarship (CLS) Program. These institutes focus on thirteen critical need languages. CLS institutes provide fully funded, group-based intensive language instruction and structured cultural enrichment experiences for seven to ten weeks for undergraduate master’s, and Ph.D. students who are also U.S. citizens.
  - http://www.clscholarship.org/

The Woodrow Wilson Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship in Women’s Studies

- The Doctoral Dissertation Fellowship in Women’s Studies “…encourages original and significant research about women that crosses disciplinary, regional, or cultural boundaries.” The fellowships are designed to assist applicants in completing their doctoral dissertations and thus making future contributions in the area of Women’s Studies. Fellows receive $2,000 toward cost associated with their dissertations.

DISCIPLINE-SPECIFIC SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS FOR THE SCIENCES

Department of Health and Human Services Emerging Leaders Program

- The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Emerging Leaders Program (ELP) is a two-year, paid, federal internship with HHS. It is a competitive program that provides interns with the opportunity to develop leadership skills in one of the largest federal agencies. The internship carries with it a salary of up to $50,408, depending on location.
  - http://hhsu.learning.hhs.gov/elp/

Doris Duke Conservation Fellows Program

- The fellowship supports students enrolled in multidisciplinary master’s programs at partner universities. Fellows are committed to careers as practicing conservationists. The program currently supports students at eight universities: Yale, Duke, Cornell, Florida A&M, Northern Arizona, and the Universities of Michigan, Wisconsin, and California at Santa Barbara.

Environmental Protection Agency (EPA): Greater Research Opportunities (GRO) Fellowships for Undergraduate Students

- The Greater Research Opportunities (GRO) program helps provide the opportunity for research at colleges and universities with limited funding by awarding undergraduate fellowships to students in environmental fields. The fellowship program aims to encourage promising students to pursue advanced degrees. Eligible students receive financial support for their junior and senior year of undergraduate study and for an internship at an EPA facility during the summer between their junior and senior years.
  - http://epa.gov/ncer/fellow/

Ernest F. Hollings Undergraduate Scholarship Program

- The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA), through the Hollings program, recruits and prepares students for public service careers with NOAA and other science agencies at the federal, state, and local levels of government as well as for careers as teachers and educators in oceanic and atmospheric science.
  - http://www.oesd.noaa.gov/Hollings_info.html
International Max Planck Research School for Molecular and Cellular Biology (IMPRS-MCB) International Summer Internships

- The Max Planck Institute of Immunobiology offers three-month summer internships in Freiburg, Germany, for undergraduate students. Undergraduates gain valuable lab experience at the institute while experiencing German culture and society. Placements are available in a wide variety of fields. Students are provided a living stipend and housing for the duration of their internship.
  - http://www.imprs-mcb.mpg.de/home/imprs/summer_internship/index.html

International Research and Education in Engineering Program (IREE)

- The International Research and Education in Engineering Program is designed to send approximately 20 undergraduates and 30 graduate engineering students to China each year. The goals of the program are “...to support international travel by U.S. early-career researchers to enable them to gain international research experience and perspective, and to enable closer research interaction between U.S. institutions and their foreign Counterparts.”
  - http://globalhub.org/iree

KAUST Fellowship: King Abdullah University of Science and Technology Fellowship Program

- The KAUST Fellowship is a scholarship program offered by the King Abdullah University of Science and Technology in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. It provides full support and a monthly stipend to students pursuing an M.S., M.S. to Ph.D., or Ph.D. degree for the duration of their graduate studies.

Math for America Fellowship Program

- The Math for America (MfA) Fellowship is a five-year program in which recent college graduates and mid-career professionals make a commitment to teach math in public secondary schools. The program includes one year earning a master’s degree in education and four years of teaching math in public secondary schools.
  - http://www.mathforamerica.org/benefits

National Defense Science and Engineering Graduate (NDSEG) Fellowships

- The Department of Defense (DoD) expects to award approximately 200 new three-year graduate fellowships each year. NDSEG Fellowships are awarded to applicants who will pursue doctoral degrees in an area of interest to the DoD. Among the areas of interest are aeronautical and astronautical engineering; chemical engineering; cognitive, neural, and behavioral sciences; and naval architecture and ocean engineering.
  - http://ndseg.asee.org/

National Institutes of Health Undergraduate Scholarship Program

- The National Institutes of Health (NIH) Undergraduate Scholarship Program (UGSP) offers competitive scholarships to students from disadvantaged backgrounds who are committed to careers in biomedical, behavioral, and social science health-related research. The benefits include both scholarship support and research training at NIH.
  - http://ugsp.nih.gov/overview_faq/overview_faq.asp?m=01&s=01