

Angie Polanco – Brazil

Angie was awarded a Walker Fellowship to attend the Centro de Estudos de Língua e Cultura language program in Brazil during February 2007. She participated in the intensive program with the goal of improving her Portuguese language skills and cultural knowledge. Command of the Portuguese language will be especially useful to Angie as she pursues her career as an investment banker. In the future she hopes to use the language skills gained through this program to help her work in banking from the Latin American side of the spectrum.
