

One-year Positions in Mathematics

The Department of Mathematics at Colby College invites applications for two one-year faculty fellow positions in mathematics, beginning September 1, 2008. Ph.D. in mathematics preferred; A.B.D. considered. Faculty fellows teach four courses during their year of appointment. We seek candidates with the potential to become exceptional teachers. The ideal candidate would also contribute to the research life of the department, interfacing with current faculty research interests and discussing their work with interested students.

Send curriculum vitae, a statement on teaching and research, and three letters of recommendation (all in hard copy) to: Mathematics Search Chair, Department of Mathematics, Colby College, 5830 Mayflower Hill, Waterville, ME 04901. We cannot accept applications in electronic form. Review of applications will begin on January 30, 2008 and will continue until the positions are filled.
