

☺ ATELIER THÉÂTRE (10 week workshop)

Are you interested in earning 1 more credit this semester? Would you like to improve your language skills while learning more about French theater? Please join the theater workshop organized by the Department of French and Italian. You will work on a French contemporary play “En attendant Godot” by Samuel Beckett. You will be required to attend weekly sessions in which you will be offered opportunities for theater participation on and off stage (production, costumes, setting, etc...). I will help you through the process and make sure that you understand the context and content of the play. Since you will be practicing and rehearsing with your peers every week, we expect you to be present and prepared for each session.
