The Constitution of The Colby College Student Government Association

We, the students of Colby College, in order to enhance the student community, do hereby establish this Constitution for the Colby College Student Government Association, hereinafter SGA.

Membership shall be restricted to matriculated members of Colby College, and SGA shall be divided into three separate branches – the Executive Board, the Presidents’ Council, and the SGA committees. SGA Code of Ethics

The Student Government Association of Colby College is committed to initiate positive change and, through the Presidents’ Council, to provide a forum for the gathering and expression of ideas and concerns from all students. As campus leaders and role models for the student body, we are dedicated to increased campus unity and school spirit; to full and open communication and explanation of events, issues, and proposals for change in College policy; and to the accessibility of views from all students.

The members of the SGA Executive Board and the Presidents’ Council have a responsibility to the student body to uphold the SGA Constitution, to adhere to all rules and regulations of the College as outlined in the Student Handbook, and to be an active and positive member of the Colby Community.

Each member must always maintain the integrity of the SGA. Members will at all times be conscious of their status as representatives of the student body, and will avoid involvement in, or remove themselves from, situations which may tend to lessen the perceived credibility of the SGA. We realize that we are equally accountable for our actions under the aforementioned guidelines of conduct. Members are responsible to their constituents and to the student body as a whole.

I, in good faith, promise to honor the prestige of the office I hold. Recognizing the unusual nature of resources available to me, I promise to neither participate in nor have knowledge of inappropriate use of the resources and privileges granted to me through my position.

My signature below indicates that I have read the above statement. I understand that should my actions result in a review by the SGA Judiciary Committee, all records pertaining to the incident in question will be released, in confidence, to the SGA Judiciary Committee.

Complaints may come from any member of the Presidents’ Council against a student government leader in the form of a resolution for an Article of Impeachment against a representative; or by a Petition of Impeachment with stated grounds written at the top and signed by two thirds of the constituency of that official. Complaints against any student government leader should be sent to the SGA Judiciary Committee Chair.

after two unexcused absences from Presidents’ Council. A student who is removed or resigns from his/her position will lose all privileges connected with that position.    3. Bylaws should be presented to the newly elected officers at their first meeting in the spring.

   4. The bylaws will directly succeed the Constitution of the Colby College Student Government Association in all records.

Bylaws:

03-02 At least one member of a new club must present the club's constitution to the Presidents'
Council at one of the bi-monthly meetings before receiving funds from the SGA budget. The Presidents' Council will vote to accept or reject the new club based upon the presentation.

05-02 All members of Presidents' Council shall be made aware of proposed appointments to all College committees one week prior to the first meeting of the year. A uniform application process, regardless of whether the applicant is a PC member or a student at large, shall be used when examining each applicant’s qualifications.

08-03 No First Year is allowed to run in the fall elections for Dorm President, unless nobody else in the dorm runs. They may then run as a write in candidate. First Years may be appointed to the position.

10-01 SGA Elections Process Enhancement

Introduction: The goal of the Jan Plan elections task force was to brainstorm and address concerns with the current elections system, specifically whether Dorm Presidents should be elected in the fall or spring. There was broad consensus that Executive Board elections should stay in the spring. The prevailing view was also that the structure of SGA is acceptable but the process by which the Dorm President positions are filled needs improvement. We’ve come up with a proposal that will increase the number of qualified candidates running for Dorm President while addressing specific concerns that were raised.

The proposal keeps Dorm President elections in the spring but makes important changes. The primary goal of electing Dorm Presidents in the spring is to select a set of representatives who have demonstrated leadership in their dorms. However, which physical building a person currently lives in is irrelevant and shouldn’t have any bearing on the decision to run. We felt that the views collectively held by residents of a particular dorm do not substantively change from building to building or year to year.

Overview: Every spring, each dorm would elect one Dorm President to serve on SGA the following year. The elected Dorm Presidents would then choose which dorm they would represent through a dorm draw based on seniority. This would occur before regular room draw. Rising seniors would pick first. Within the rising seniors, those with 3 years on SGA would pick first, followed by those with 2 years, 1 year, and 0 years. For instances of multiple people in the same class with the same number of years on SGA, lottery number would determine the order. In other words, seniority at Colby comes first, then experience on SGA, then lottery number. The same process would be repeated for rising juniors followed by rising sophomores. At regular room draw, each Dorm President would get first pick in their class in the dorm they already chose.

Problems with the current system and how they are addressed in this proposal:

Problem: Currently, qualified candidates who live in undesirable dorms are discouraged from running because they don’t want to live in the same dorm again.

Solution: This proposal would allow people to run because they want to be on SGA while ensuring some degree of choice in dorm for the next year. Even sophomores would have some ability to choose where they want to live the following year and no one would be forced to live in the same dorm twice in a row.
Problem: Currently, some people who are in desirable dorms run for SGA solely to get a good room for the next year.

Solution: Running for Dorm President would not guarantee anyone a particular dorm. Like regular room draw, seniority would determine which Dorm Presidents are likely to get the most desirable dorms.

Problem: Fall elections mean a late start to the year for SGA.

Solution: This proposal would keep Dorm President elections in the spring. Because there would likely be more qualified candidates, fewer positions would need to be filled in the fall.

Problem: The constituents being represented in a particular dorm do not get to elect their Dorm President.

Solution: This would remain the same. This proposal relies on the premise that the most important goal is to elect a group of qualified leaders, and the best way to do that is have elections in which the people voting are familiar with the candidates.

Problem: There are very few senior Dorm Presidents, even though seniors have been on campus the longest and are arguably most qualified.

Solution: Seniors would have the best shot at representing the most desirable dorms just as they have the best shot at the best dorms in regular room draw.

Questions and Answers:

Question: What about people who are abroad in the spring but would like to be a Dorm President the following year? Right now they can’t run.

Answer: Students who are abroad in the spring would be able to run in the last dorm they lived in. In the vast majority of cases this would mean they would be running in a dorm community that is familiar with them from the fall semester. They would be able to designate a proxy to run their campaign on campus. For the few people who go abroad for an entire year, they would run in the last dorm they lived in. Unlike today, every student (except seniors who are graduating!) would be eligible to run for Dorm President.

Question: What about Substance-Free and Quiet dorms as well as other dialogue housing?

Answer: While these dorms change from year to year, the number of buildings of each housing type remains relatively constant. For example, the number of substance-free dorms is consistently 3 or 4. Remember, each dorm, regardless of type, would elect one Dorm President. For example, this spring’s elections would elect 18 regular Dorm Presidents, 3 substance-free, 2 quiet, 1 green, 1 art and music, etc. The expectation would be that running in one of these dorms would mean representing the same type the following year. There would inevitably have to be some coordination with the Campus Life Office if the number of buildings of a type changed. Remember that right now, people are running and committing to live in dorms before they even know what type of housing it will be. There is a lot more “switching” going on now than there would be with this proposal.

Question: Aren’t sophomores unfairly disadvantaged?

Answer: Just like in regular room draw, sophomore Dorm Presidents would pick after seniors.
and juniors. However, they would all still be guaranteed first pick of their class in their chosen dorm. Assuming there would still be a few dorms without anyone running, every elected Dorm President would have some choice in where they would live. Right now, sophomore Dorm Presidents are forced to live in the dorm that was randomly assigned to them as First Years. If a sophomore ran again for their junior year, they would be in a very good position with experience on SGA.

Question: How would this fit in with the Apartments Lottery?

Question: What about electing Alfond and Off-Campus Dorm Presidents?
