

Economics Course Requirements Checklist Note the semester you completed, or plan to complete, each required course R – Required course R* – Required course completed with a grade of C- or higher		Economics		Economics with a Concentration in Financial Markets		Economics Minor
						Track 1		Track 2
Principles of Economics	EC133: Principles of Microeconomics	R*		R*		R		R
	EC134: Principles of Macroeconomics	R*		R*		R		R
Accounting	EC121: Financial Accounting			R		R
Intermediate Theory	EC223: Microeconomic Theory	R*		R*				R
	EC224: Macroeconomic Theory	R*		R*
Statistics & Econometrics	EC293 or an approved two course sequence in research methods and/or statistics (e.g., PS214/5 or SC212/321)	R*		R*
	EC393: Econometrics	R		R
	EC293, SC212, PS215, SO271, GO281 or equivalent					R		R
Elective Courses	EC2xx or EC3xx electives (excluding EC293 & EC393)	1		EC211		EC211		2
				EC212		2
	EC3xx: electives	2		2
Capstone	EC4xx: Senior Seminar	R		R
Mathematics	MA125, MA130, or MA135	R*		R*				R*
Total courses required / remaining		11		13		7		7

For students considering Ph.D. level graduate study in economics we recommend: MA160 or MA165; MA253 (Linear Algebra); MA274 (Mathematical Reasoning); MA311 (Ordinary Differential Equations); MA338 (Real Analysis); and CS151 (Computational Thinking).

EC224 is a prerequisite for all senior seminars. EC393 is a pre-requisite or concurrent requirement for all senior seminars.

For the economics majors, at least three of the four required courses EC223, EC224, EC293, and EC393 must be taken at Colby. Students may receive credit toward the majors or minor for no more than three courses taken away from Colby. EC121, EC133, and EC134 do not count toward this three-course limit.

No course that could fulfill a requirement for either major or minor may be taken satisfactory/unsatisfactory. This includes all EC-listed courses and any course used to fulfill the Statistics and Mathematics requirements.

Independent studies, EC293, EC393 and EC345 cannot be used to fulfill any of the elective course requirements.

The Economics minor cannot be combined with either of the Economics majors. A relevant internship experience is recommended for all majors and minors.